Investigation 1: Brassica Seeds

Plants are living things.

Many plants start from a seed.

Seeds grow into young plants when they have water.

Plants need water, air, nutrients, light, and space to live and grow.

There is variation in a group of plants.

Plants have structures for survival and reproduction.

Flowers are pollinated; seeds form in flowers.

Seed dispersal

Seeds can be planted, and the life cycle starts again.

Roots

Stems

Leaves

Seedling

Mature plant