Needs of Seeds

Seeds sprout and eventually grow into young plants called seedlings. Put an X next to the things you think a seed needs in order for it to sprout.

_____ water
_____ soil
_____ air
_____ food
_____ sunlight
_____ darkness
_____ warmth
_____ Earth’s gravity
_____ fertilizer

Explain your thinking. Describe the “rule” or reasoning you used to decide what a seed needs in order to sprout.

__________________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________________